workshops

SUNDAY, 4 SEPTEMBER 2016, 18.00 - 21.00

DIVANI CARAVEL HOTEL, ILISSOS ROOM
VAS. ALEXANDROU AVE 2, ATHENS

TASK AND PROJECT BASED LEARNING

This workshop will be divided into three main parts.

The first part will briefly cover the theory behind both task and project based learning and look at some of the differences and similarities.

The second and third parts of the workshop will be very much more practical and focus on the practice of both task and project based learning, respectively.

High, low, and no-tech alternatives will be explored for each of the tasks that we explore in more detail. There will also be opportunities to share ideas and create tasks that complement the type of teaching you do in your classrooms in Greece.

Provided Certification of Attendance

Participation Fee € 30

Victoria Boobyer is a freelance writer, trainer and E-Moderator and also acts as the ICT & Social Media consultant for a number of ELT institutions. Until late 2013, she was Academic Manager at Anglo European School (Bournemouth, UK) where she implemented an extremely successful programme of complementary handheld learning.
